BRAND STORY

My entrepreneurial journey started in 2007. I had just left my corporate job after my mom passed away that year. I wanted a new start. I could not imagine life without my #1 cheerleader, and I had to find my purpose and passions again. I moved to Tobago to join my now husband with my two-year-old son. With no income and transitioning to a new environment, we decided to open our own business procuring goods and services for the Government. The most requested items were office furniture, stationery and equipment. With determination and faith, we were able to open a Franchise store in a mall setting, selling high end Office Furniture and unique stationery items. Business was great! The newfound success and demand was exciting. We were soaring for over two years. Then in 2009, the economy crashed.

Business began getting harder and the orders came to a halt. Customers were no longer spending as much as they used to. We would soon have to move out of our beautiful space to the downstairs of our home. Not long after, we would have to move from our home to a smaller space that we could afford. By now, I had four children and life was tough. We had to leave that smaller space and move to my mother-in-law's house.

This was truly an embarrassing and dream crushing moment in my life. How can one be so successful for two years, then totally bankrupt in the next two years? I was devastated. I had no income and the many expenses from the previous business was mounting up quickly. On my 35th birthday, I could not even buy an ice-cream for myself. I cried for the entire day. That evening in the shower, with the water running down my face, warm from my tears, I asked God to help me, and I needed that help immediately. I could not go on one more day like that. I declared that would be my last day crying over this. I came out of that shower a new person. It was like God placed in my spirit a decision. I decided to pick myself up from that place of pity, fear, defeat and amnesia.

I remembered how I became successful in the first place and announced to myself that I could do it again. A fire was ignited once more in me. I got a notepad and started writing. It was then that I got a divine download of my purpose, vision, mission and business name. Kingdom Women International was birthed. I saw how I would approach this new business and who I would now serve. Within 3 hours I had a complete plan of how I would expand my life. From that day forward, I never looked back, and amazing things have happened for me that must be because of the hand of God in my life.

“I have been an avid follower on Kelisha's page for some time. Silently observing and making mental notes where needed. I had a mental financial block and have been procrastinating when it came to development in myself and my business, so applying for any kind of programme would always jump out of my mind when I know money is involved. I decided to come away from my comfort zone and apply for Kelisha's mentorship in her Business Strategy Experience class. When this is done you would never know what your footsteps is going to provoke. It's your turn and Kelisha is the one!” – Renatha Thompson, Business Owner
